

Columbia University Nonprofit Management Master Degree Program

WHAT WE'VE COMPLETED

Better Future Strategies (BFS) researched to understand the known risk management practices in the nonprofit sector. Part of the research consisted of multiple interviews of nonprofit leaders who have been working in the sector in different capacities and have cross-sector views and knowledge. The research also included documented impacts of the pandemic and emerging trends and needs of the sector.

Deliverable and Success Criteria:

Jessie Lee, our founder and Manoj Panjwani, our Strategy and Governance Advisor designed a workshop called "Navigating Risks, Crisis and Opportunities for Nonprofit Resilience" It was held on September 24, 2020 for the students, alumni and faculty of Columbia University Nonprofit Management Master Degree program.
